The proposed merger of Grand Prix Association of Long Beach Inc. with a Delaware racing and entertainment company is not expected to have a major impact on the day-to-day operations of Gateway International Raceway.

However, Gateway officials said it will ment schedule.

On March 27, GPALB and Dover Downs Entertainment Inc. announced a proposed merger that would leave GPALB intact as a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Delaware company.

The proposed merger, which must be approved by shareholders of both companies, would leave the company as one of the largest racing-related companies in the United States.

As part of the merger, GPALA CEO would remain with the company.

Pook and Gateway President Rod Wolter both said the merger would result in faster long-term development of the Madison facility.

"It will vave no real effect on track operations," Wolter said. "It's really a person would remain with the properties," "It reposably a very strong financial standing."

"It probably enhances the track," Wolter said. "What it's really going to do is (See MERGER, Page 3A)

Partial-birth abortions

TO THE EDITOR:

I am writing to remind your readers that the U.S. Congress will again be voting this year to override President Clinton's veto to ban partial birth abortions. All abortion is murder but this form is the most heinous yet conceived.

The American Medical Association and other medical authorities have examined partial birth abortions and determined this procedure is never medically necessary to preserve the health of the mother.

procedure is never medically necessary to preserve the health of the mother.

In 1996, and 1997 the U.S. Congress voted overwhelmingly to he will be used to be a superficient of the procedure. The current bill is the Partial Birth Abortion Ban Act of 1997, H.R. 1122. It bans partial birth abortions with a "life of the mother" exception. On Oct. 10, 1997, President Clinton vetoed it. Contrary to all objective evidence he insists that the bill should also have a "health of the mother" exception. SKIN CANCER SCREENING

Over 500,000 new cases of skin cancer are reported every year. Fortunately, skin cancer is one of the most treatable and curable forms of cancer provided it's discovered early.

The Program:

Memorial Hospital's Skin Cancer Screening Program is an outpatient service designed to help you detect precancerous and/or cancerous skin lesions.

Memorial's Skin Cancer Screening physicians include:

Timothy Bradley, M.D. Richard Hehmann, M.D. James Gregory, M.D. Craig Leonardi, M.D. Steven Musick, M.D. Armorn Salypongse, M.D. Bjong Suhn Tschoe, M.D. Gary Vicik, M.D. Robert Wanless, M.D.

These physicians, members of Memorial's Medical Staff who volunteer their services for this screening, will examine the head, arms and legs for suspicious skin lesions. Any other areas of concern will be examined at the patient's request.

Date, Time, Place: Screenings will be conducted on Wednesday, April 15 and Thursday, April 16 beginning at 8 a.m. Memorial's Physical Therapy Department

Screenings are conducted by appointment only. If you are on a restricted time schedule, please understand there may be a brief wait before being seen by the physician.

Information:

A limited number of appointments are available. To schedule an appointment, call the Physical Therapy Department at 257-5250.

This Skin Cancer Screening program is conducted as a free community service by volunteer plastic surgeons and dermatologists from Memorial's Medical Staff by Memorial Group. Inc., and Memorial Foundation, Inc. on behalf of Memorial Hospital.

Al Collins remembers well the day he first had the vision.

The Madins High School boys baskethall coach was watching some seventh and eighth-classes at Madison Middle School in late 1992. That's when he noticed the kid.

"I saw this kid dribbling down the floor, never once looking down at the ball but always looking to see where the looking shead, always looking to see where that had the seen that the same seen that the same seen that the same seen that the same seen that I could use this kid right now. Let's, just let him skip seventh and eighth grade and start playing for the high school team right now I was ready to suit him up the first him this kid could become, and of what we could make you a winner. I saw the potential right then and there. I had a vision of what that kid could become, and of what we could become with him on the team."

That kid was Maurice Baker, the Class A Player of the Year in booth for the Saker as o-winner of the award last year.

So much has been written about the f-foot all-state senior that any attempt to write more must be prefaced with a "stop me if you've heard this before" disclaimer.

Wiechert's exploits were crucial to Dupo's regional championship, its first postseason crown since agame or two or a stretch or two where he didn't play to his capabilities," first-year Tigers coach Norm Thompson said of Wiechert, whose free throw with no time verdict against Lebanon in the regional championship. "But he basically carried the team on his shoulders. We told the kids that. He finally decided to play inside and the team needed."

"Those are some big shoes fill. We're going to miss

Along with winning a region-crown, the Tigers finished 3 in the Cahokia Conference, and for a third-place tie.

Shane Alberson, Red Bud:
His steady play propelled Red
Bud to an impressive 17-10
overall ledger, which included a third-place tie in the Cahokia
Conference at 6-3.
The 6-4 senior forward/center made the all-tournament

For the year, Alberson averaged 15.65 points while blocking 32 shots.

Les Norman, Lebanon: A 6-0 junior, Norman averaged 23 points, 7-9 rebounds, 3-7 assists, 1.5 steals and one blocked percent from 2-point range, 43 percent from 3-point range and 60 percent from the free-throw line.

This was the second straight year Norman led the Greyhounds in secring.

"He shot a little more consistently this year," John Schieppe said. "His high-game (66 points against Freebregional) is a good indication of what he can do. "His knowledge of the game and his ability to handle the ball got better this year. His defense has got to improve and he knows that."

Derrick Tewell, Freeburg: A 6-3 sophomore, Tewell quickly emerged as a standout for a Midgets squad that had virtu-ally no varsity experience.

"We expected going into the season that he would be our leading scoring because he's always been a big scorer as coach Fred Blumberg. "After he became a marked man, we expected his totals would go down because of all the attention he would get defensively, a bit. He averaged 18 points a game and was 92 of 102 from the free throw line.

"He's one of those players with good offensive instincts.

He knows where the ball comes off the boards. He has a lot of skills that are not neces-sarily taught.

"There are some things he needs to work on, but he's made a lot of progress. We're really happy with him."

Director Mike Nichols has said "Primary Colors" isn't meant to be about the Clintons, but by now their story is too famous, even mythic, to make us believe otherwise. The "Stantons" of both the film and the novel by "Anonymous" (later revealed to be journalist Joe Klein) can only be the Clintons. How we react is inseparable from how we feel about them.

The Stantons and their folthes are an attractive bunch: smart, assay, resource-ful. They have answers for everything, and they will have plenty to answer for the stanton of the stan suggesting their real-life models without getting lost in them. And there are a couple of nice bonus performances: Larry Hagman as a melancholy present as a melancholy as a melanchol thetic pupper, and his sinde-can be as scary as a skele-ton's.

Nichols and May might have wantd "Primary Colors" to political leaders, but Travolta undermines that. How good can you feel when the story ends with a man such as Stan-ton asking you to trust him? "Primary Colors," a Univer-sal release, was produced by Nichols and is rated R, for profanity and adult situations. The running time is 140 min-utes.

There's a product renaissance going on at General Motors, and Buick's Century is typical of many new vehicles coming from GM. Hidden under conservative styling is a car with a tight body structure, vastly improved function and an interior that is both bigger dimerion and an interior that is both bigger. The Century Limited starts at $19,575. Last year I drove the Custom, but this time I tried the Limited. Equipped with options such as power leather seats, dual-zone air condition. Gentury Limited has a sticker price of $23,040, which is squarely in line with competitors such as the Oldsmobile Intrigue, Toyota Camry and Honda Accord.
